Pantry Point Hospitality Services – About Us

This basic hospitality tool is popular due to several reasons, primary reasons being the quick service and the cost. On the other hand there has been mushroom growth of highly non-professional “Chai-Walla” or “Chai-Kitaliwalla” to serve this basic need of any business establishment.

The present model is though cost effective but has many limitations, viz. the quality of presentation, quality and consistency of the product and the most important is the personal hygiene of the person who makes such drinks and the person who serves.
